Cancers, Cancer Humors Tumors Scrofula Leprosy Salt Rheum Fits Neuralgia Bronchial Affections Catarrh Rheumatism Sick Headache Liver Diseases Female Weaknesses Piles Diseases of the Throat and Lungs Diseases of the Kidneys S [illegible] Gravel Diabetes &c &c

Dr Chase has practiced in his profession for sixteen years and in that time has spent two years in Florida and Cuba for the purpose of gaining a correct knowledge of the [illegible] remedies used by the various tribes of Indians of that country and by great expense has gained many valuable secrets which have heretofore been unknown to the world

In Cancer he claims superiority over all other Physicians of the age for he never fails to perform a cure when taken in a proper stage

His mode of curing Cancers is by the application of a plaster which is strictly vegetable and will have no effect upon the healthy flesh and in no case uses a knife as does Dr Greene of Boston

He also boldly asserts that he can tell every individual the [illegible] and [illegible] of their organs and describe their feeling in almost every case more minutely than they can possibly themselves

Dr Chase is not a Clairvoyant but conducts his examinations on a strictly scientific principle and will challenge any professed medium for a test [illegible] on

THE MOST POPULAR

IN NEW ENGLAND.
The Model Cook for Wood or Coal.

THIS STOVE has now been before the public for five years and thoroughly tested in all respects, and to say that no stove yet made has given equal satisfaction is speaking within the bounds of truth while it is no disparagement to other Stoves

THAT THE MODEL COOK will do more work with a given amount of fuel than any other Stove made is a fixed fact

THE MODEL COOK will do more work for the reason that it has full one third more oven room than any other stove is more economical for the reason that the fire is made between the ovens No heat is lost

A more peculiar feature of the Model Cook is the addition of a Ventilating Roasting Oven so arranged that it can be used separately for roasting, or in connection with the large oven for baking By this process roasting and baking are entirely separate

This permanent extension gives an additional boiler hole and other room on the top of the stove while at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor than ordinary stoves

In fact THE MODEL COOKS are acknowledged by all who have used them to be

THE MOST PERFECT
THE MOST ECONOMICAL
THE MOST CONVENIENT
THE MOST BEAUTIFUL
AND THE
Most Durable Stove in the World !

THE MODEL COOKS are manufactured at the rate of 5000 per year and the demand for them is constantly increasing

EVERY MODEL COOK sold is warranted to give entire satisfaction in all respects or the stove will be taken back and the full price refunded

This stove is more extensively in use in New England for coal than any other and gives the best satisfaction We are the exclusive agents for this Stove in Bangor and will be pleased to show to any who will call

An Invaluable Medicine for the Purifying of the Blood.
Dr. J. W. POLAND'S
HUMOR DOCTOR.
A POSITIVE REMEDY FOR ALL KINDS OF HUMORS, PARTICULARLY
Erysipelas, Nettle Rash, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Carbuncles, Boils & Piles

IT IS VERY EASY TO SAY OF THIS, OR ANY other Medicine "It is the very best Remedy known" It is not always so easy to prove it It is however exceedingly gratifying to the proprietor of this Medicine, that, while he declares to the public that this is a most wonderful and effective Specific for Humors, as stated above, he has abundant proof at hand to sustain his statements.

For sixteen years the Humor Doctor has been manufactured and sold, and every year has increased the value of its reputation and the amount of its sales In New Hampshire, where it was originated no remedy for humors is so highly prized—An eminent physician (now an army surgeon) when practising in N H, purchased between fifty and sixty gallons of it during seven or eight years and used it in his practice He has since then ordered it for the hospital where he was stationed 3 her physicians have purchased it, and have used it in practice with great success When the proprietor lived in New Hampshire, at Goffstown Centre for the space of thirty or forty miles around and in the Manchester particularly the Humor Doctor was well known and highly valued for the numerous and wonderful uses which it effected Though manufactured in large quantities, the supply was frequently exhausted and purchasers had to wait for more to be made. In that region some very severe cases of erysipelas were treated with it —and they were cured. Erysipelas sores, or carbuncles those ugly painful ulcers were entirely removed wherever this medicine was faithfully used So it was with Scrofula and Salt Rheum The Humor Doctor cured them

Since the Proprietor's removal to Melrose Mass, his present residence he has been regularly selling it to patients who have applied to him in person, and has been very successful in relieving and curing them One case of Erysipelas—of an old man 72 years—is worth mentioning in particular When he came to the Doctor's office he could only wear a pair of old rubber overshoes, his feet and ankles were so swollen and sore When he pulled off his socks the scales came with them, and the raw, bleeding feet, were frightful to behold Suffice it to say, that less than one dozen bottles of the Humor Doctor (and in a few weeks) healed up those feet and ankles, so that they were smooth and apparently sound The man wore boots without inconvenience Numerous cases of pimples in the face have been treated with this medicine, to the entire eradication of them In Melrose alone, there are more than a hundred persons who have used the Humor Doctor and give it an excellent name; In all the towns around it is well known and approved

For the sake of showing what is thought of it, a few testimonials are here inserted

MILTON GALE, ESQ , Boston

I hereby certify that I was sorely afflicted with boils for two years, developing themselves upon my limbs and other parts of my body The sufferings which I endured from them are indescribable But suffice it to say that I faithfully tried several of the most popular humor remedies but without removing the affliction At length by the earnest request of an intimate friend I was induced to try Dr J W Poland's Humor Doctor and am very happy to attest that all my boils were removed and my health was restored by using Dr Poland's aforesaid medicine
MILTON GALE
Boston, January 11th, 1866

MRS WHEELER, Stoneham, Mass

I very confidently and earnestly recommend Dr J W Poland's Humor Doctor as an excellent remedy for Humors, having been wonderfully benefitted by it myself My own case was a very severe and obstinate one For more than two years the skin upon the inside of both my hands and even down on the wrist, was constantly cracked and broken up so that I was unable to use my hands in any kind of wet work, and was obliged to wear gloves in sewing to avoid getting blood upon my work—The humor which so afflicted me was probably a combination of Erysipelas and Salt Rheum My general health was quite poor Soon after I began to use the Humor Doctor, I could perceive signs of healing I continued to take the medicine till I was finally cured My hands are now perfectly free from humor and to all appearances my whole system is clear of it and has been for several months I used eight bottles before I felt safe to give it entirely up, but they cured me

Hoyt's Illuminating Oil.
A NEW ILLUMINATING OIL.—The best and safest oil for burning in the household is the new Illuminating Oil, secured to Mr Edwin Hoyt of Stamford by caveat filed at Washington Its advantages over kerosene are at once apparent and those who are accustomed to burn kerosene will be glad to know that they will no longer be exposed to danger by its explosive nature The new oil has neither smoke nor does it emit a disagreeable odor and will give a more brilliant light than any other known chemical We have seen it in use and would recommend some enterprising man to purchase the right for this vicinity —Bridgeport Standard

OFFICE OF STATE ASSAYER,
PORTLAND Me March 6th 1867
This is to certify that I have this day tested a sample of "Hoyt's Improved Illuminating Oil" The Oil was treated as in all other trials which I have made of similar substances
At 110° flame was applied to the mouth of the tube but there was not sufficient evolution of vapor to support combustion At 150° the fluid was boiling and the vapors burned tranquilly and gently
The result of this test would indicate that the Oil in question is a safe preparation for use in families for household illumination

Taxation of National Bank Stock.

The following is a copy of the opinion of the Supreme Court of Maine, upon "An act providing for the taxation of the property and stock of National Banks and Banking Associations in the State of Maine," approved March 1 1867 The opinion was received at the office of the Secretary of State, April 15, 1867 Judge Dickerson's opinion, which dissents from the opinion of the majority, was filed with the Secretary, March 30th Judge Tapley's, understood also to be in dissent, had not been received when the opinion was printed

BANGOR, March 11, 1867

To the questions proposed by the order of the House of Representatives under date of February 26th, we have the honor to answer as follows

By the act of Congress of June 3, 1864, "to provide for a national currency," and for the organization of national banking associations, by section 40 it is enacted "That the president and cashier of every such association shall cause to be kept at all times, a full and correct list of the names and residences of all the share holders in the association, and the number of shares held by each in the office where the business is transacted, and such list shall be subject to the inspection of all share holders and creditors of the association, and the officers authorized to assess taxes under State authority, during business hours of each day, &c , &c

The 41st section of the same act after making provision for taxation by the United States proceeds as follows "Provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent all the shares in any of said associations held by any person or body corporate, from being included in the valuation of personal property of such person or corporation in the assessment of taxes imposed by or under State authority at the place where such bank is located and NOT ELSEWHERE, &c

By reference to the sections just cited, it is obvious that the valuation of shares and assessment and collection of taxes thereon are to be made at the place where the bank is located and by the municipal officers severally appointed for these specific purposes These sections regard the capital of the bank as located where its business is done—following the rule adopted in this State as established by Revised Statutes of 1857 chapter 6, section 11, rule 1st

The place referred to is the municipal corporation in which the bank is located, and where the valuation of the shares must be taken, the assessment thereon made and the amount assessed, collected It is one of the recognized incidents of taxation that the corporation by whose authority taxes are assessed and collected should expend the amount to defray its own necessary expenses, and discharge its municipal obligations

When the owner of shares resides at a place other than that where the bank is located it is obvious that if the valuation of shares and assessment upon the same, were made at the residence of such shareholder, it would be in the very teeth of the act, which in express terms prohibits their being done elsewhere But that cannot be done indirectly, which if done directly would be in clear violation of the act of Congress

To the questions proposed, we answer

1 The law of Congress creating National Banks and Banking Associations requires that all taxes assessed by virtue of State Law on the shares of such banks shall be applied to the use and benefit of the city and town in which the same is located, when shares in such banks are owned in some other city or town in this State

2 The provisions contained in sections three and four of a bill entitled "an act providing for the taxation of the property and stock of National Banks and Banking Associations in the State of Maine," approved March 1, 1867, are not consistent with the existing law of Congress

RECONSTRUCTION—LETTER FROM GEN LONGSTREET The New Orleans Times prints a second letter from Gen Longstreet, in which he says

The surrender of the Confederate armies in 1865 involved :

1 The surrender of the claim to the right of secession.

2 The surrender of the former political relations of the negro

3. The surrender of the Southern Confederacy

These issues expired upon the fields last occupied by the Confederate armies There they should have been buried The soldier prefers to have the sod that receives him when he falls cover his remains The political questions of the war should have been buried upon the fields that marked their end Our most cherished objects of this earth, blood of our blood, life of our life, if not duly deposited as ordained by an all wise Providence, becomes offensive So must it be with this dead matter If the last funeral rites of the Southern Confederacy have not been performed, let us, with due solemnity, proceed to the discharge of that painful duty and let us deposit in the same grave the agony of our grief, that we may the better prepare ourselves for a return to the duties of this life

Some think that the question of resistance is admissable in deciding our course of action But this is a grave error, even if we had the power to resist, and a reasonable hope of successful resistance For when a people resort to the violence of war they should be prepared to show to the world just cause of war What cause can we claim, unless we say that we did not know what we were fighting for in the war just ended ?

Our duty resolves itself into two very simple propositions, viz relieve ourselves from our present embarrassments by returning to our allegiance, in good faith, to the General Government under the process laid down by Congress, or seek protection under some foreign Government Those who determine to remain should speed the work of reconstruction, and put our people in condition to make their own laws, and choose their own officers for their execution

I am one of the particularly disfranchised for I have been informed from the highest authority that I am one of those who will be the last to receive amnesty I regard this as one of the results that belong to the hazards of revolution and I have no better cause of complaint, than those who have lost their slaves

LETTER FROM JUDGE CAMPBELL

Judge Campbell has written to Gen Longstreet a letter from which we quote

I regard it as an inexorable fact that there is no constitutional opposition that can be made to the military bills that will have any other operation than to increase the existing anarchy

These military bills afford to the people of the States, with large exception , the means of restoring the supremacy of civil order and to terminate the dominion of military rule I may grant that the conditions are harsh and vigorous that they violate the fundamental law of the United States, and that they promise for the future much of insecurity and instability But these admissions do not change the aspect of the questions, as now presented nor do they lessen the obligations of our people to take the measures open to them that will best promote the common weal

A principle of law of importance to railroad travelers has been settled by the New York Supreme Court In the trial of a suit growing out of the death of a gentleman named Walker in consequence of a collision on the Long Island Rail road, the Court decided, among other points, that it is the duty of the conductor to furnish seats to all passengers If he should fail to do this, and travelers be compelled to to stand, even though they stand on the platform, and personal injury result, the railroad company cannot avail themselves of the law which absolves them from liability by posting notices in the cars against standing on the platforms Mr Walker met his death under such circumstances, and his executors recovered damages

Popham Again.

To the Editor of the Daily Whig:

Messrs. Wiggin and Lunt, antiquarian book publishers of Boston, have put into pamphlet form, in their exquisite style, the articles which were published last year in the Boston Daily Advertiser newspaper, upon the subject of the Popham Colony, under the signatures of "Sabino", "P," "Orient," and "Sagadahoc".

"P" with a self-sufficiency that would do credit to the Count Johannes, and a pugilistic demonstration eclipsing that of Tom Hyer, fairly exhausted himself in pommelling Sir John Popham, his colonists, Sabino, and all those Maine antiquarians who, during the past three or four years have been endeavoring to enlighten the public in relation to the first colonial enterprise in New England. Here is a specimen of the style in which he attacks them:

"Nothing would satisfy a few excellent people in Maine but to dig up the sickening remains, and flaunt them under the nostrils of the community. Here was an offence against decency and sanitary regulations, indictable at common law. In cholera times the proceeding is insufferable."

Having by the grossest assumptions, irrelevant quotations, and absurd constructions of language, undertaken to prove that the whole enterprise was conceived in sin and begotten in iniquity, and was an abortion at last, he brings himself to believe that the "Popham Colony was a scandalous and complete failure". And then, as if for the purpose of nauseating everybody who reads, he indulges in the billingsgate above quoted.

He imagines that he has annihilated Sir John Popham, Lord Chief Justice of England, the "head and front of the enterprise", whose position and influence at the time should have been sufficient guarantee of his respectability, even with the attorney of so worthy a client as the Plymouth Colony, and then proceeds to demolish his colonists, whom he designates as "convicts", "wretched culprits," "felons," a "colony of outlaws," a "colony of convicted felons", &c.

As evidence that they were "convicts", this trenchant writer quotes from Strachey the word "prepared"—"but against the next year he [Sir John] prepared a greater number of planters"—and undertakes to give the impression that Strachey used the word with reference especially to convicts. "To get or make ready" is the first definition Bailey gives to that word, and such is the sense in which Strachey used it—"got ready a greater number of planters." The only other quotation he makes, having direct reference to this colony, is from Sir William Alexander's Discription of New England. It is this:

"Those that went thither being forced to that enterprise, as endangered by the law and their own necessities, (no enforced thing proving pleasant, discontented persons suffering whilst they act, can seldom have good success, and never satisfaction) they, after a winter's stay, dreaming of new hopes at home, returned home with the first occasion, and to justify the suddenness of their return, they did coyne many excuses, burdening the bounds where they had been with all the aspersions that possibly they could desire, seeking by that means to discourage all others."

We have not the work, but find that Palfrey quotes a little differently—"endangered by the law or their own necessities."

What proof is this that these planters were criminals, or convicts? At that time the law in England was very severe against debtors, and it is more than probable that the planters were poor men, and in debt, and that they preferred the chance of bettering their fortunes in America to a life in the Fleet, or some other debtors' prison. To be unable to pay a debt was to be subject to be denounced as a rebel, and to be imprisoned for non-payment. It was only thus that these planters of Sagadahock were "endangered by the law and their own necessities", and we challenge proof to the contrary.

The colony was "founded" by Capt. Geo. Popham, President, Capt. Rawley Gilbert, Admiral, Capt. Edw. Harlow, Master of Ordnance, Capt. Robert Davis, Sergeant Major, Capt. Ellis Best, Marshal, Mr. Lamaux, Secretary, Capt. James Davis, Com'r of the Fort, and Mr. Gome Carew, Searcher, "persons of quality," according to Hubbard, and Rev. Richard Seymour was their religious teacher. Is it probable that such men would have come to America to preside over a colony of criminals? Is it probable that Lord John would have sent his aged brother on such a mission? Then, is it probable that a party of felons would have dared to return to England with the inevitable gibbet staring them in the face? When a charge of such magnitude is made, it needs something more than mere assertions to establish it; and if there had been a foundation for it, "P," who, we understand, has access to all the authorities, could have found it in some of the writers of that age. It is sufficient for "Sabino" that a man is presumed to be innocent until he is proved guilty; and he may rest satisfied that, so far as crime is concerned, his colonists were as guiltless as any other equal number of colonists that came to America in that age.—"One of the profanest" of the Pilgrim colony—Billington—was executed for murder. The historian does not say how many more they were as profane as he, but there were some. There is no evidence that there was one as "profane" in the Popham colony; still the Popham colonists are all pronounced "felons", while the Plymouth colonists are all remembered only as beings of immaculate purity.

"P" criticises "Sabino's" use of the word "founded". The colony was not permanent, but it was founded, nevertheless. Was not Carthage founded? It stood longer, but where is it now? Did "P" ever read of a certain house that "was founded upon the sand"?

Then "P" denounces the colonists for cruelty to the Indians; and, following in his wake, Rev. Mr. Cushman, in his criticism of Judge Bourne's Address, in the January Congregational Quarterly, uses the following language:

"It did strike one, at least, as a little singular, that if Popham and his party were so very high-minded and devout as this address endeavors to make them to be, they should show so little of the Christian—we will not say humane—spirit in the treatment of the Indians during their [illegible] their spirit and conduct [illegible] from the settlers at Plymouth [illegible]

[illegible]

They had held, and, when in an attitude most exposed it was discharged, giving them all a frightful shock, and actually killing and wounding some of them. Whether these stories have any connection, or foundation in truth, we cannot at this distance of time ascertain with certainty; and we might especially wish the latter one, for the credit of the colonists, to be a fable; yet both were believed to be true by the ancient and well informed inhabitants on Sagadahock river."

Who would convict a man on such testimony as this? It came from Indians, and more likely refers to some mischievous trick of sailors, or settlers in another part of the country, at a later period, than to any act of the Popham colonists. To one having acquaintance with the Indian character, the idea that any reliance is to be placed upon their traditions is simply ridiculous. If such a trick had been perpetrated by the Popham colonists, it would have found its way to the public. But it is found in no history of the age. Strachey says nothing about it; Gorges says nothing about it; and Hubbard, who wrote about half a century afterward—and would not have omitted it in his account of the colony, if it had been true—does not mention it.

It is soon enough to answer such charges after they are proved. A simple denial is sufficient; but "Sabino" has very fully answered them, and performed the supererogatory work of proving a negative, which, with "Sagadahock's" appendix, has had the effect to silence "P" indefinitely.

"Sabino" need not fear lest the Popham colony suffer from "P's" unwarrantable assault. His claim that the first colony in New England was founded at the entrance of the Kennebec river, that the spot was religiously dedicated, that a church and a fort and dwellings were built for the establishment of a permanent colony, cannot be invalidated. He does not deny that, in consequence of death and misfortune, it came to an untimely end. Nor does he deny that the glory of a permanent colony belongs to Massachusetts, though not attempted for a dozen years afterward.

The secret of "P's" disgusting attack oozes out before he gets through; in this style:

"The true historic glory of the noble State of Maine seems to have been lost sight of in the antiquarian researches of her sons—which is, that the State sprang from the loins of Massachusetts."

Because the sons of Maine are manifesting some interest in her own early history, and have established the fact that the first bona fide colony of New England was planted upon her shores more than an eighth of a century before the colonization of Massachusetts was dreamed of, the cess-pools of that old commonwealth are opened that the stench of her indignation may divert them from putting this obstacle in the way of that self glorification in which she has been wont to indulge.

Had this colony fallen upon Nahant or some other Massachusetts locality, the classic name of Popham would doubtless have shone quite as resplendent upon her historic roll as that of Bunker, and the sons of Maine would have been expected to give it the meed of their admiration, as they are now to confess that the "true historic glory of Maine is, that she sprang from the loins of Massachusetts". G.

The time has gone by when great national parties can be formed and maintained upon transitory questions of finance, of taxation, or of tariffs, as in former years. The nation has advanced to a higher plane; and our differences must now be those of higher principles.—[Bangor Whig.

To wit:—the everlasting nigger.—[Anson Advocate.

What nigger do you refer to? The one to whom the "democracy" of the country is now kneeling in humble supplication for his vote? One would suppose, from recent demonstrations out South, at Washington and elsewhere, that this "everlasting nigger" was the only principle ever known to the Advocate's party.

What does The Whig think of these thirteen Republican Representatives in the New Jersey House of Representatives who last week voted with the Democrats against giving the negroes of that State the right of suffrage? Ought they not to be excommunicated?—Bangor Democrat.

Certainly, we think so. They are recreant to the Republican principle of just and equal rights. Nine tenths of the Republicans, even in New Jersey, will say "turn them out." The Democrat is welcome to our opinion.

The Washington Chronicle says that radical Senators and members have contributed $9000 for the distribution of political documents throughout the South.—[Whig.

Can The Whig inform its readers how much those Radical Senators have contributed for the relief of the suffering poor of the South.—[Bangor Democrat.

Well, we can't say. Can The Democrat inform us how much has been contributed for the relief of the rebels by their friends in Bangor?—or how much the said friends did for them during the war?

The Copperhead journals insist that the country has been ruined by the Republicans with their radicalism; but we see that the rebel Toombs—he that was once going to call the roll of his slaves on Bunker Hill—has concluded that "with all its disadvantages the United States is the best country in the world to live in." Will the Bangor Democrat explain the apparent paradox? [Whig.

Nothing paradoxical at all in that, neighbor. "Hope springs eternal in the human breast." Toombs plainly foresees that the old Democracy are to come into power in 1868, and that under their pure and just administration the country may yet be restored to what it was before the Radicals began their work of ruin. It is not so much what the country actually is to-day that makes Toombs pronounce it "the best country in the world to live in," but the cheering hope of what the Democracy will make it. [Democrat.

"Just so." We see it now. Toombs & Co. expect to get slavery back when the "democratic party" regains power. The country is then to be restored to "what it was" before the war. Well, we once read, when a small boy, that when the sky fell we could catch larks, and were foolish enough to believe that the sky might sometime fall. The "cheering hope" of Toombs and The Democrat, that the halcyon days of the blood-hound and the lash will return has no better foundation, we trust and believe. But if the people would prevent such a consummation, they must keep the democratic party out of power. We have a fair warning from our neighbor.

A Paris letter to the Boston Advertiser, says: "The truth is that the Emperor is losing his prestige. The inglorious results of the Mexican enterprise, the want of decision, which permitted the aggrandizement of Prussia, the unpopularity of the law which compels every sound man to follow the drum, the extreme vacillation and drifting shown by the government in interpreting the letter of the 19th of January, 1867, the rigorous [illegible] over the press and the [illegible] public assemblies, the [illegible] by [illegible] and opening of private correspondence, [illegible]

Shipbuilders' Convention.

The Convention assembled at the Merchants' Exchange at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, according to adjournment. After some preliminary remarks it was unanimously voted that it is the sense of this convention that an agent should be appointed to represent the ship building interests of this State in Congress, therefore be it resolved, that this convention do hereby appoint the Hon. N. G. Hichborn of Stockton to act as such agent for this association, and that he shall proceed to Washington, and lay before Congress the grievances and burdens, under which the ship builders and owners labor, and to obtain such abatement in duties and taxation, as will enable them to compete with other nations, and that he shall proceed to Washington on said business whenever in the opinion of the President and Directors it shall be deemed necessary. Power was also given the Directors to select another party who should co-operate with Mr. H. in the presentation of the matter, or who should act in his stead if necessary.

J. L. Farmer, Esq., of Portland, then presented the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the ship builders of this country should have permission to go any where out of the country to build and equip for sea, sailing vessels of wood or iron materials, also wood and iron steamers; and when so built by them, shall be admitted to registry as a United States vessel, and be free of all Customs House duty and internal taxation, and that Congress be memorialized to conform United States laws to it.

Resolved, That the officers of the Convention petition Congress for the repeal of the Navigation laws, so far as to permit the United States ship owners to purchase sailing ships or steamers in the cheapest market, admitting them to registry, thus enabling us to keep up our supply of tonnage as well as keep our flag still on the ocean.

These resolves were unanimously laid upon the table.

Remarks upon the importance of the enterprise to the interests of the whole State were made by Mr. Hichborn, who also urged the necessity of having within our own limits manufactories of duck, cordage and all such materials used in the construction of vessels. This matter interests not the builder alone, but affects our whole State trade, and the earnest co-operation of all parties was strongly urged. Already the association, through the efforts of Mr. Hichborn, has effected a change in the construction of the act with reference to tonnage dues, so that payment is now required but once in twelve months, instead of once in every calender as heretofore. Much remains to be accomplished which can be well effected only by united effort.

A robbery of a mysterious character is just now occupying the attention of the Thames police. The Messrs. Rothschild having occasion to remit a large quantity of money in specie to Rotterdam, put on board a steamer, the "Waterloo," twelve cases of silver, weighing two hundred weight each, which having been duly placed in the hold of the vessel, the hatches were fastened down with iron bars and locked, the mate of the steamer retaining the key. In addition to these precautions, two men were on the watch on deck during the night, and they assert that they never deserted their posts. In the morning it was discovered that two of the cases had been stolen, and that the thieves had got clear off with their spoil

The city of Philadelphia embraces the whole county, an area of about eighty-four square miles. This expansion was carried some years since, in the face of a pretty determined opposition. The result, however, has been so entirely satisfactory that all classes now rejoice that the change was made. It is a very significant fact that the city of Philadelphia after the annexation of the whole county, increased in ratio from that point much faster in wealth and population than both city and county had increased previous to that time.

In the Munchausen history of "Mosby and his Men," recently published, the author says that Mosby and three of his partizans put to flight and chased for a long distance one hundred and eighty of the Sixth New York Cavalry, while instances are innumerable where they single-handed slew all the way from four to ten Yankees apiece. Astonishing how such heroes were ever conquered.

RADICAL MISSOURI. The radicalism of Missouri is evidently no detriment to the interests of the State, if we may judge from the fact that on the first, second and fourth days of this month, 43,360 acres of land were entered, 32,680 acres being entered under the homestead act, the remainder with agricultural college scrip and land warrants.

The Camden and Amboy Railroad Company are having constructed at their shops at Bordentown, a locomotive of sufficient power to draw one hundred cars laden with coal in one train. It is a ten wheel engine, having six drivers four and a half feet in diameter, with a stroke of twenty-four inches.

Imperfect Eye-Sight Restored

BANGOR, April 4, 1867.

I take this method to express my gratitude to Dr. J. M. Jennings for the successful treatment of one of my son's eyes. About one year ago one of his eyes was pierced with an arrow, and from its effect produced an internal cataract which had nearly destroyed its sight—so much so that he could scarcely discover any object with it. I had nearly or quite given up all hopes of its ever being restored.—Learning that the Dr. was stopping at the Bangor House, I called upon him with my son, and he examined the eye, and said he could not give me much of any encouragement, but on certain conditions would make a trial. It is but one week to-day since I placed him under his treatment, and am happy to say that he has succeeded in restoring his sight beyond all my expectations, as the eye was very weak before. It is now gaining strength every day, with a fair prospect of permanent help. The treatment is simple and harmless but effectual. I would earnestly recommend all afflicted with diseases of the eye in any form, to employ him without fail.

Give Nature a Lift!

People expect too much of Nature. They trifle with their health and their constitutions, and then are surprised that they fall sick.

The pressure of constant mental or bodily labor, upon the animal powers, is tremendous. Very few systems and constitutions can bear up against this pressure unassisted. Add to this the unhealthy influences which lurk unseen in the air we breathe, the water we drink, the lassitude produced at this season by the change from the rigor of Winter to the warmth of Spring, and it would seem to require almost superhuman vigor to keep in perfect health without reinforcing the physical energies.

But how reinforce them? Certainly not with adulterated stimulants. There is no poison in the outer air, or in the atmosphere of furnace-heated rooms, or work-shops, or factories, so pernicious as those deadly-burning fluids.

Why use them, when

a vegetable tonic without alloy, are every where obtainable? Nothing has ever been offered to the feeble and debilitated so harmless in its nature, so powerful in its invigorating effects, as this celebrated STOMACHIC and ALTERATIVE.

In the army and the navy, in new settlements, and in crowded cities, by old and young, rich and poor, it is used as a PROTECTIVE and RESTORATIVE MEDICINE, with most gratifying results. april7 s2n3tawd&w2v

Dr. Schenck, the Lung Doctor.

☞The Proprietor of SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, the inventor of SCHENCK'S RESPIROMETER, the only instrument that can to a certainty detect the slightest murmur of the respiratory organs.

This is of great importance to Dr. SCHENCK, to know the exact condition of the lungs, whether it is Tuberculous, Pulmonary, Bronchial, Pleuritic, or Dyspeptic Consumption, and whether it is both lungs or only one that are diseased.

It requires constant and long practice to become familiar with every sound or rattling of a diseased bronchial tubes. Patients come to Dr. SCHENCK to get examined that have been examined by their family physician, who told them that their lungs were almost gone; when by a close examination, with the Respirometer, it is often found that it is an affection of the bronchial tubes; and by getting a healthy action of the liver and tone of the stomach, the sufferer is soon restored to health. Sometimes medicine that will stop a cough, is certain death to the patient. It locks up the liver, stops the circulation of the blood—hemorrhage follows, and, in fact, stopping the action of the very organs that caused the cough.

Dr Schenck will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond street New York, and 35 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer, the charge is $5. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers, also, a full supply at all times at his rooms. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen; Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box. GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover street, Agents for Boston. An Effectual Worm Medicine

BROWN'S VERMIFUGE COMFITS,

OR WORM LOZENGES. Much sickness, undoubtedly, with children and adults, attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. The "VERMIFUGE COMFITS," although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child.—This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be safe and sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children.

CHILDREN HAVING WORMS require immediate attention, as neglect of the trouble often causes prolonged sickness.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS IN CHILDREN are often overlooked. Worms in the stomach and bowels cause irritation, which can be removed only by the use of a proper remedy. The combination of ingredients used in making Brown's Vermifuge Comfits is such as to give the best possible effect with safety [illegible]

Bickford's Spring Opening!

Dear people of the city, my life's devoted to your pleasure!
Call, or order, which ever you please,
Through me, the ocean's treasure!
I have the power to summon from the vasty deep
All for your satisfaction and health,
Such of those delicate fishes
Which will cost you only a tithe of your wealth!
Now good people, just remember,
BICKFORD has a perfect understanding
With old Neptune, the old sea god:
And when he wants fishes, at his demanding
Forth they come, skipping and hopping
Like young maidens when going a shopping.
Blood-red lobsters, boiled in salt water
(And if they hain't been, why, they oughter)
For they are so very much better
Than in fresh,—but perhaps no wetter—
Then the delicious Mackerel and Cod
Off which dines the old sea-god,
Either served up as a fry or chowder.
When he smacks his lips a good deal louder
Than a thirty-pounder Parrot gun,
And declares its the best of fun!
Come look into Bickford's and see his fishes,
You will have them to gratify your choicest wishes
At least, as regards your supper or dinner,
Be you black or white, or saint or sinner:—
He is constantly supplied with, and has always on hand!
Fish from the salt sea, caught out sight of land.
But should you prefer those from the fresh ponds,
You will be suited to a T—he will come under bonds.
Then look in to Bickford's at any time of day,
You will be treated with despatch and fairest of fair play!
And go your way rejoicing with the prospect of a dinner,
And may your shadow never be less nor your wallet any thinner.
Then call into Bickford's, I tell you earthly mortals,
For you will have then entered into life through its portals—
I mean a material life—a life of the body,—
Not a spiritual one as found in rum toddy.
Oh! we must sustain the house we live in,
Or else "shut up shop," "dry up," "step out," or give in! apr 11

AUGUSTA, April 18.

Nominations by the Governor:

James M. Deering of Saco, as one of the commissioners to investigate the affairs of the Insane Hospital, in place of Nathan Webb, declining.

Ex-Gov. Coburn, William P. Wingate, Nathaniel Wilson, and George P. Sewall as Trustees of the Agricultural College—the last in place of Hon. J. B. Brown, resigned.

S.

[The whole Board of seven have now been nominated by the Governor and by the Council confirmed, and is as follows:—S. F. Perley of Bath; Abner Coburn of Skowhegan; Lyndon Oak of Garland; Isaiah Stetson of Bangor; William P. Wingate, of Bangor; Nathaniel Wilson of Orono; Geo. P. Sewall of Oldtown.]

WASHINGTON, April 18.

The Senate to-day confirmed Gen. T. W. Sherman as Major of the 16th Infantry; Hon. W. Cake, Collector of Customs at Philadelphia.

In the Supreme Court to-day, the Mississippi and Georgia Injunction cases were taken up.

Mr. Walker—If the Court please, (for my colleague, Judge Sharkey, and myself) I would ask leave to file a bill in behalf of the State of Mississippi against the Secretary of War, the General of the U. S. Army and Gen. Ord. We have of course, made the bill conform to the decision of the Court. I believe it is precisely similar to the bill already filed in the case of Georgia. We now ask permission of the Court to file it.

Chief Justice—It may be filed.

Mr. O'Conor—If your Honors please, in the case of the State of Georgia—having given notice of a motion for injunction—we ask that it may be placed on the calendar, so that in course, on next motion day, it may be heard, if the convenience of the Court will permit.

Attorney General—Upon looking into the bill carefully, I have come to the conclusion that it is my duty to appear in the case, in my official capacity. It is a duty I would not seek, but it is one I cannot avoid: and upon examining the bill I have made up my mind that the proper course for me to take in the first place is, to move this court to dismiss the bill of the State of Georgia, and also that of the State of Mississippi, upon the ground of want of jurisdiction in this Court. I advised the gentlemen this morning that I would make such a motion, and I have handed them notice of it, and the only matter now to be arranged, is the time at which the court will hear it. On the notice of my motion, I have designated Friday week as the day on which I shall be ready to take up the motion. I understand from the opposite counsel that that day will suit them.

Mr. Walker—Do you make the motion in both cases?

Attorney General—In both cases,—it is the same motion; the State of Georgia is the first however.

Mr. O'Conor—These motions are of a character that involve essentially the same question, and can very conveniently, I suppose, be heard together in any order the Court may direct, and any order will be agreeable to me and to my associates. The time designated by the Att'y General is the same that we designated on our part, and if the suggestion which he has made be agreeable to the Court, we may be understood, if that is of any importance, as agreeing to it.

After further discussion it was arranged that the two cases should be heard together, and the Court would hear two of the counsel on each side.

Mr. O'Connor expressed regret that Georgia should be confined to one counsel, saying that it so happens that these two cases are entirely separate, and conducted by different counsel, and with a different policy as to the view taken of the law of the land. However, we submit, of course, to the determination of the Court, however, the question of jurisdiction may be decided.

Sixty days notice, on motion for an injunction, will be necessary, unless the Attorney General on behalf of the defendants should waive it.

WASHINGTON, April 18.

In the Criminal Court today, Mr. R. T. Merrick, counsel for Surratt, moved to fix a day for the trial of the prisoner, and suggested the 6th of May. The District Attorney, in reply to a statement of the prisoner's counsel, said the prisoner had been treated with all the kindness consistent with the duty of a generous government, anxious only to vindicate the majesty of law. He did not think he could be ready for a trial in two weeks, and suggested the second day of the June term, that is, the 17th of June.

Considerable discussion ensued between the District Attorney and the prisoner's counsel, and various propositions were made but without coming to an understanding or agreement. Finally, the Judge said he did not think he could set a day in the June term, as he would not preside at that term. If he should grant the motion it would be for continuance. He would take the subject into consideration.

Two companies of the 5th Regiment U. S. Cavalry which has been stationed in this city, are under orders to report to Major Gen. Pope, commanding the 5th Military District.

The following circular to fishing ports has just been issued:

Treasury Department,
Washington, April 16, 1867.

It is represented to the Department that vessels licensed for the fisheries frequently return from the voyage having aboard a residue of the salt taken at the commencement of the voyage, which they desire to use on shore in completing the cure of the fish taken by the vessel. This salt is understood to be frequently saturated with moisture from fish, or otherwise rendered of no value except for the purpose specified, and the department [illegible] der proper [illegible] shore.

Collectors are therefore authorized to grant special permits upon applications to enable such remaining portions of salt to be landed without forfeiture of the bonds, given under the regulations of Sept. 17th, 1866, but the privilege can only be claimed by a vessel at the port from which salt was taken, and where the bond was filed, and the Collectors will be required to exercise great vigilance to satisfy themselves that no fraud is perpetrated or attempted, but that that the salt is in fact used only in curing fish taken by the vessel landing the salt. The bond given when the salt was first taken will not be cancelled until all such residue has been used or the duty upon it paid.

The evidence to cancel the bond must be in conformity with the regulations of Sept. last, the above referred to, and filed within the time limited by bond. Collectors must exercise careful discrimination in reissuing no permits and cancelling no bonds unless satisfied that there has been good faith throughout. The oath and bond given upon entry of salt for withdrawal from bond for the purpose specified will be in form appended hereto.

(Signed) H. M. McCULLOCH.
Secretary of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, April 18.

Senator Johnson's resolution providing that the United States should offer their mediation the belligerents in Mexico with a view to restore peace honorable to both parties, was taken up today in executive session of the Senate. As far as can be learned Senator Johnson supported the resolution with a prepared speech, and Senator Sumner spoke at some length in favor of it.

Senator Fowler then offered a substitute setting forth that since the United States had not thought proper to interfere in the war in Mexico while the French were there, and its interference might have been of some advantage, and since the Mexicans have shown courage and a determination to defend the independence of their country, and had succeeded in expelling the foreign invaders, it was the sense of the Senate that this was no time to interfere in Mexican affairs; that the people of the United States had full confidence in the manner in which the Mexican people should treat their prisoners of war.

Senator Chandler spoke against the resolution and was followed by Senator Morton, who took the ground that Maximilian being nothing but a fillibuster in Mexico, the United States could not interfere in his behalf just as they would not interfere to save Walker or Marciso Lopez.

That besides, Maximilian, soon after his arrival in Mexico, issued a murderous and barbarous decree, ordering all Mexicans who would not support him, to be shot within 24 hours after capture—among them, Major Generals and other officers of high rank and acknowledged worth, were shot for the pretended crime in defending their country and their firesides; that the United States did not then interfere to prevent this wholesale murder and assassination, in which women and children were included; and, that therefore it would not be becoming for them to interfere now, when a fillibuster and murderer is reduced to extremities; that it would besides be undignified for the Government to interfere in favor of a party which, in all probability, has by this time been subdued—certainly long before mediation could reach Mexico.

That the United States having altogether ignored Maximilian and the empire from the beginning, they could not now, if they had any regard for consistency, acknowledge Maximilian's rule as government and interfere in his favor with his enemies.

The speech of Senator Morton embraced many other points, and it is said produced such an effect as to induce Senator Johnson to withdraw his resolution—as a defeat was certain if pressed to a direct vote.

In the course of debate it was stated by one of the friends of the resolution that Maximilian was not responsible for the bloody decree by which the black flag was raised in Mexico, and he supported his assertion by reading a letter from the European Minister that the decree in question was signed by Maximilian under compulsion of the French. It is said this explanation did not seem to be quite satisfactory, as the French had disclaimed all responsibility or the subject.

The result of the debate was decidedly against any interference in behalf of Maximilian and his followers, and an expression of confidence in the ability of the Mexican people to deal with their prisoners of war according to the laws of nations.

RICHMOND, Va., April 18.

The convention met at 10 o'clock.

The pervading feeling shown in speeches of the colored members was for confiscation. One or two who opposed it were saluted with cries of "Copperhead".

The announcement by Mr. Friend of Petersburg, that if Congress did not give negroes lands they should be taken by violence was received with much applause.

The white members did not seem to relish the idea of confiscation, and tried to throw cold water on it.

The committee reported an address to the State and a series of resolutions, which were adopted.

The resolution favoring confiscation was referred.

The resolution endorsing President Johnson was hooted down.

The convention then adjourned sine die.

EXTRA SESSION.

WASHINGTON, April 18.

SENATE

The Senate immediately after prayer and reading of yesterday's journal, went into Executive session.

After some time in Executive session the doors were opened for a short time, when Mr. Anthony called up his resolution further extending the time for adjournment of the session sine die until Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Mr. Trumbull was opposed to the proposed extension and wanted to adjourn to-day.

Mr. Fessenden remarked that it was impossible to adjourn to-day as there was important business on the table which would occupy them until four o'clock.

Supreme Judicial Court—April Term

KENT, J., presiding.

Thursday, April 18.

ON TRIAL.

Geo. W. Prentiss vs. George W. Shaw et als. The plaintiff was not put upon the stand before the testimony was put in for the defense. This is not yet closed. Defendants show expressions of gratification on the part of the plaintiff at the assassination of President Lincoln as the cause of the excitement against him, and that after his ride, the oath to support the constitution was administered to him in open town meeting; defendants alleging that there were many returned soldiers in town, and the indignation against plaintiff was very great.

A Felonious Assault and Highway Robbery.

ORRINGTON, April 16.

Messrs. Wheeler & Lunde:

As Melwink Freeman of Orrington, was traveling from Bangor home, on the 13th inst., between 9 and 10 o'clock in the evening, on Burr's Flat (so called), in Brewer, near Cooper's shipyard, he was attacked by three men, knocked down insensible by a slung shot or some other deadly weapon, robbed of a small sum of money, and then severely beaten and left for dead. After laying for a time he revived, got into his carriage and rode about four miles towards home, when he fainted from exhaustion, fell from his carriage, and laid in the road until about three o'clock the next morning when he was found by his friends who went in search for him, and carried home. He is now in a dangerous state, and unable to give many of the particulars.

Yours truly,
JAMES FREEMAN

—Kaler, at the Hammond Street Market, advertised in another column, has hanging in his stalls the beef from a pair of oxen, fattened in Levant, which will compare favorably with any to be found in Boston or other markets. Call at the market corner of Hammond and Court Streets, and see for yourselves.

BALL IN AID OF THE YOUNG MEN'S SODALITY. We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to be present at the Grand Ball to take place at Norombega Hall on Monday next. The occasion will no doubt be an unusually pleasant one. The music will be by Getchell's Quadrille Band. The list of dances is attractive, and drawn up with a view to meet all tastes. The refreshments will be served up at the Hall, by Mr. Michael Towle.

—Rev. Mr. Underwood will preach at the First Parish Church this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Subject—"Contentment." Also, at the same place at half past 7 o'clock this evening.

THE ICE. It seems the river did not clear entirely of ice on Wednesday evening, at the Narrows. The ice did pass through as stated—but that which came from up river subsequently filled in and jammed again.—This remained yesterday afternoon.

[Since writing the above we hear it reported that the ice took its final departure from the Narrows at low water in the afternoon—between 4 and 5 o'clock.]

—The first launch of the season came off yesterday, and was in one respect an unfortunate one. A scow which was built upon the Katahdin's wharf was "let off," and on her about a dozen boys from eight to fourteen years old, who insisted upon having a launch. The warp attached to the craft was not strong enough to hold her, and the consequence was that the boys went off down river without oars or sail, and perhaps ascertained whether the ice had gone. We presume they were soon picked up.

—The Lewiston rioters arrested have had an examination, which resulted in binding over for trial of Edward Hayes, Jas. Staunton, Wm. Eastham, Michael Cohern and Daniel Boyle. The Lewiston Journal gives the following account of the riot:

These rioters were mule spinners, and are "strikers." They with others to the number of about one hundred and fifty paraded the streets in the evening, and finally went to the house of Mr. Wm. Ranney, [illegible] who is a sub-overseer in [illegible] department of the Continental [illegible] Ranney with [illegible] [illegible]

BELFAST AND MOOSEHEAD RAILWAY.—We see by an advertisement in the Belfast Age that subscription books for the Belfast and Moosehead Railway are to be opened on Monday, the 13th day of May, in Belfast, Bangor, Boston, Waterville and Dexter—and to remain open for twenty successive days. In Bangor they will be opened at the office of W. S. Hilliard, Esq. The Age says that two or three routes have been suggested; the most easterly going through or near Monroe village and an easterly notch of the Dixmont hills; the middle passing through Brooks and near Jackson village and through another notch of those hills; and the third, taking a more westerly course, and running near Montville and through Unity and Troy; each converging at Newport. The final decision will doubtless be governed, to some extent, by the amount of subscriptions which may be made by the towns on the respective routes.

—"Colby University" (formerly Waterville College) has 66 students. The faculty consists of the President, Rev J. T. Champlin, D. D., who is also Professor of Intellectual and Moral Philosophy; and Messrs. S. K. Smith, C. E. Hamlin, M. Lyford, J. B. Foster, and E. W. Hall. With the exception of the President, all the Professors are graduates of Waterville College. The prospects of the University are highly encouraging. The name of the College has been changed by act of the Legislature, in order to comply with the terms of a recent important bequest or donation. The Mail says the contract for the walls of the new Memorial Hall has been given to Mr. Thomas A. Galen of Cambridge, Mass., and work upon it will commence the first of next month. The finishing stone are to be furnished by Messrs. Bodwell & Wilson, from the Hussey Ledge in Augusta.

TEMPERANCE. Rev. I. J. Fletcher, of Bath, State Agent of the Sons of Temperance, believes in commencing the work at the fountain, and so he goes to the Sabbath Schools and secures, with the consent of parents and guardians, the names of the children. In this way he has already enrolled the names of 50,000 or the pledge of total abstinence, and expects that the return of pledges already given out will give 5,000 more. This is a good work, begun in a promising field, and should receive, as it does, the co-operation and hearty good wishes of every philanthropist and lover of his race.

—The little "Patten Voice" has an advertisement queerly out of the ordinary course. A blacksmith of Sherman notifies the people of Patten that he cannot do their shoeing—having enough home work to do. Commend us to a place where the mechanics have to advertise in order to get rid of work. By another queer advertisement we see that Michael Maloney gives fits over Gardner & Coburn's store. Good for the doctors.

FIRE IN CORNISH. On Thursday last, in the afternoon, the house, barn and outbuildings, belonging to William F. Allen were destroyed by fire, together with twenty-four head of cattle, one horse, one colt, twelve sheep, fifteen lambs, a quantity of hay, corn, wheat, fifty bushels oats one hundred bushels potatoes, twenty barrels cider, one wagon, one sleigh and harness, and all the household goods, except two beds. The fire was first discovered in the barn, but its origin is as yet a mystery. Insured for $800 in the Gilmantown Mutual Co., N. H.

—The Machias Union says an old man in that town named Hall, aged 74 years, retired to bed in usual health on Monday night, but awoke with severe pains in the breast.—The family made some appliance that relieved him, but soon the pain returned, he rose up in bed a moment, then laid down and instantly expired.

—Mr. J. S. Mitchell of Patten, made a profit of $450 last year, from 103 sheep, and has his sheep left—as we learn from the "Voice." The paper calls upon the farmers to make their own cloth, as formerly.

—The Pension Agent at Agent at Augusta gives notice that he would be in receipt of funds for the payment of pensions, on the 17th inst. It will be good news for those who have been waiting for their Pension money.

—Plumbago of good quality has been found on the farm of Mr. Whitney Cummings in the town of Sumner, Oxford county. It remains to be seen how extensive it is.

—Bowdoin College has a total of 220 students, as appears by the spring catalogue—Senior Sophisters 24, Junior Sophisters 24, Sophomores 33, Freshmen 37, Medical Students 102.

Notice to Mill Owners and Millwrights.

Improved Lever Pressure Centre-Vent.

ECONOMIZING

WATER WHEEL!

Invented and Patented by W. R. Close,
BANGOR, MAINE.

THE Subscribers would ask the attention of Mill Owners, and others interested in Water Wheels, to their Patent Centre Vent Wheels, manufactured at T. N. Egery's Foundry.

The great demand for these wheels have made it necessary for the proprietors to add several more sizes to their former list, and their arrangements are now such that they can generally fill an order in one day after it is received.

We claim superiority over other Wheels for various reasons, the chief of which is the economical use of Water. Trials of these Wheels the past season have demonstrated the fact that they will do the same work with one half the water required for any other Wheel used on the Penobscot River.

Second.—The amount of water vented upon the wheel is self-regulated by a device embodied in the Patent; hence, when the Saw is out of the cut, or the labor is in any way decreased, the speed of the wheel remains the same, thereby avoiding shocks to the machinery, and those break-downs which result from the sudden acceleration of speed, which a wheel does not regulate itself.

Third.—This is an anti-freezing Wheel; by a patented arrangement, that trouble in wheels run in Northern climates is avoided. This Wheel needs no "cutting out:" it never freezes.

Fourth.—It is equally well adapted to both horizontal and vertical Shafts; is cheaper than any other wheel, and can be readily applied to any old wooden or iron shaft, without change of gearing.

By using this Wheel, a large majority of Mills can run double the time that they now do, for the reason that it can run with half the water required for any other; hence all those owning Mills on Streams where the water is limited, will see the advantage of using these Wheels.

FREEDOM, January 23d, 1867.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—Gents—I have removed from my Saw Mill a Rose Water Wheel, and put instead one of your Patent Water Wheels of five feet diameter, made at T. N. Egery's foundry in Bangor. I am driving with it under eleven feet head a single Saw, and haul up with but one hundred and ten and a half (110½) inches of water, let on to the wheel through a spout measuring six and a half (6½) inches by seventeen (17) at the pitch. I have not let on to the wheel over one half of that amount, and I am pleased to say that I can saw more than twice as much lumber, and my saw goes much quicker and stronger than it did with the Rose Wheel, with all the water I could get on to it. I cheerfully recommend your wheel to all who may be in want of wheels, especially upon privileges where the amount of water is limited.

Respectfully yours, ELLIOT H. BANTON.

GREENFIELD, Nov. 12th, 1866.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—This is to certify that I have been using one of your seven feet Water Wheels in place of a Stearns' Wheel, removed; and after a thorough trial I am satisfied I can do the same amount of work with one quarter the amount of water, formerly used with the Stearns' Wheel.

The water is let on the wheel through a trunk 9 inches wide and 17 inches high, measuring 153 square inches of water; but I do not consider that I use more than one half that amount direct from the flume. Yours, &c., B. L. McFARLAND.

HAMPDEN, March 22d, 1867.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—I have this winter removed from my mill a Tub Wheel, and put instead of it one of your seven feet wheels to drive a Double Lath Mill and Cutting-off Saw, to saw laths from round stuff.

I have seven feet head when the tide is down, and at high water in a high course of tides, the water rises four feet over the top of the wheel, thus giving only three feet head; and I am pleased to say that with the amount of back water the wheel drives all my saws fully up to speed, and gives abundance of power to do all the work the saws are capable of doing. The wheel gives perfect satisfaction, and I cheerfully recommend it to all who may be in want of wheels, especially where the supply of water is short, or where there is back water.

Respectfully yours, S. F. LEIGHTON.

BRADLEY, March 25th, 1867.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—We have in our mill, at this place, a 5 feet 9 inch Wheel of your make, and are driving with it a Double Lath Mill and Cutting off Saw, making laths out of round timber, which requires a great deal of power.

Your wheel furnishes ample power, and drives the saws up to speed; and we consider it does not use more than one half the amount of water that is required for the best wheel we have ever seen before, and cheerfully recommend it as the best wheel we have ever seen. Very respectfully yours,

ESTABROOK & COMINS.

BRADLEY, March 13th, 1867.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—We have the past winter put into our mill a 5 feet 9 inch Close Patent Water Wheel, to drive a Double Lath Mill and Cutting-off Saw, and are pleased to say it gives all the power the inventor claimed for it. It drives our saws all up to speed and gives a large surplus of power, and does not use more than one half the amount of water of any other wheel we have ever used.

We take pleasure in recommending these wheels as the best and most economical in the use of water of any we have ever seen.

Yours truly, A. A. BLACKMAN & CO.

BANGOR, Sept. 21, 1866.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—Gents—Having put in operation, in our new Saw Mill at West Great Works, Oldtown, one of your new patent Mill Wheels, manufactured at Egery's foundry in this city, and fully tested it, we take pleasure in saying that it more than meets our expectations. We are now driving with it, under a nine and one-half feet head, one Clapboard, Sapping, and Shingle machines; Shingle jointer and two Cutting-off saws, with but 204 inches of water, admitted or let on to the wheel through a trunk or spout measuring 12 inches wide and 17 inches high. Its operation gives us entire satisfaction, and we consider it superior to any other wheel within our knowledge, and cheerfully recommend it to those in want of wheels.

W. H. SMITH,
WM. T. PEARSON.

BANGOR, Sept. 21, 1866.

Having witnessed the operation of the above Water Wheel, in the mills of Messrs. Smith & Pearson at West Great Works, also in the mills of Messrs. Copeland, in Holden, and in Messrs. Comins' mill, in Bradley, both driving a 50 inch circular saw mill, I can with full confidence recommend them as possessing and combining qualities for power, economy in water, regularity of speed, and cheapness of construction, over any other water wheel known to me.

THOS. N. EGERY.

NEWPORT, Sept. 24th, 1866.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—Gents—This may certify that I assisted the past summer in putting into the West Great Works mills at Oldtown, for Messrs. Smith & Pearson, one of your Patent Water Wheels, of seven feet diameter, made at T. N. Egery's foundry, and am pleased to say that in my opinion it requires for its successful operation the least quantity of water of any wheel I have ever seen, and I cheerfully recommend it to all who may be in want of wheels, especially upon privileges where the amount of water is limited.

J. C. CHANDLER, Millwright.

WEST GREAT WORKS, Oldtown, Sept. 26, 1866.

Having as millwright, under the direction of Messrs. Smith & Pearson, charge of the erection of their new saw mill at this place, in which one of Close's Patented Water Wheels has been put in operation, I fully concur in the opinion given by Messrs. Smith & Pearson and Mr. Egery, as to the merits of said wheel.

DAVID CATCHELL, Master Millwright.

BRADLEY, July 27, 1866.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—Gentlemen—We have lately removed from our saw mill a wooden Centre Vent water wheel, and put instead one of your Patent Water Wheels, and after a thorough trial we are satisfied that we can drive our Rotary saw, Edger and Trimmer saws, and haul up with one half the amount of water we used with our wooden Centre Vent wheel, which we have always considered, and know to be a very economical wheel, on a privilege where the amount of water is limited.

We take pleasure in recommending your wheels to all who use water wheels, especially to such as have a limited supply of water.

Respectfully yours, J. W. & J. M. COMINS.

HOLDEN, April 13th, 1866.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—This may certify that I have lately removed from my saw mill a "Brastow Water Wheel," and put instead one of your Water Wheels, and after a thorough trial am satisfied that I can saw twice the amount of lumber I formerly sawed, and use not more than one-third the amount of water formerly used with the Brastow Wheel, which wheel I have always considered a very economical one, on a privilege where the amount of water was limited.

And I take pleasure in recommending your Wheel to all who use water wheels, and especially to such as have a limited supply of water.

DR. JENNINGS,

OCULIST AND AURIST,

HAVING met with eminent success in his practice in Fall River and New Bedford, for over two years, in removing Cataracts, Ulcers, Inflammation, and other diseases from the eye—in restoring hearing, &c., has taken Rooms Nos. 28 and 30 at the Bangor House, where he will be happy to render his professional services to all those afflicted with the above complaints. As he brings undoubted proofs of his ability to perform whatever he advertises, the public can depend that he will not take any one under his care or practice without benefiting or curing.

Below are a few of the numerous certificates he is constantly receiving:

DR. JENNINGS—Dear Sir:—For the benefit of others, I wish to state, that some sixteen months since, Mrs. Thurston received an injury in the eye, which caused an obstinate inflammation, much suffering, impaired the sight, and feared might destroy it altogether. We employed various remedies, consulted a distinguished Oculist, of Boston, but all without permanent relief. A few weeks ago we consulted you, and by your treatment the inflammation has been reduced, the pain relieved, the sight restored, with every present prospect of a permanent cure. We have every reason to think and speak well of your treatment in the case.

REV. E. THURSTON.

Fall River, Sept. 18, 1865.

P.S. Any reference to me, I shall be most happy to answer by mail or otherwise.

State of Mass., Bristol Co., Fall River.

I take this method of expressing my gratitude to Dr. J. M. Jennings for his successful treatment in the case of my daughter, whose eyes had been afflicted for five years; so much so they had become ulcerated: also the formation of cataracts upon both the eyes, which had nearly destroyed her sight; she had been under the treatment of others, who had failed to help her. It is now five years since she commenced the treatment and in six months was entirely cured. I would cheerfully recommend him to all thus afflicted. WM. V. HUNTSMAN.

Fall River, August 2c, 1865.

This may certify that I am acquainted with Dr. Jennings, and his system of treating deafness and loss of eye-sight. I am using his remedies for deafness. So far as I have seen, the benefit resulting from those who have been under his treatment, I feel no hesitation in recommending it to those who are suffering from the above diseases.

DR. E. FISKE.

To DR. JENNINGS, Room 35 Parker House.

For the benefit of others—I wish to state, that less than three weeks ago my daughter could scarcely see to read at all, was troubled with noises in her head, and was dull of hearing; for a long time has been troubled with a bad humor in and about her head, also subject to the headache for years. I called on Dr. Jennings at the Parker House; he said he could help her, and commenced treatment. The improvement in her case has been great, much more than I could have expected, in so short a time. She can now see to read the finest print, her hearing is better, and her humor is fast disappearing, and she has been entirely cured of the headache.

The afflicted should not fail to see.
The man who has done so much for me.

LOST MARGERY.

O where has the little one fled,
The child with the innocent eyes,
With the ready smile and the springing step,
And the merry, quick replies?

She was always so gay and so bright,
That I miss her when she is gone;
Is she out at her play in the garden there?
Do you think she would leave me alone?

Perhaps she is hunting the flowers
That come when the snow melts away—
The crocuses, starting up purple and white,
Or the violets, children of May.

Or perhaps she is out with the birds,
Teaching robin and sparrow to sing.
Or dancing along with the glad little stream,
Set free by the touch of the Spring.

O, why are your eyes so sad?
Have you never a word to say?
Did the angels lean from their heavenly heights
And beckon my darling away?

Has she gone through the gates of pearl?
Has she crossed the jasper sea?
She cannot be lost whom the angels have found—
But she will not come back to me.

UP HILL.

Up hill—but up to light,
As recompense for all the wayside toils,
In climbing out of night
To win from struggling life immortal spoils.

Up hill—but up to peace,
The land forever tranquil and serene,
Where tears and sorrows cease,
And no dark waves of troubling care is seen.

Up hill—but up to bliss,
To be forever free from stains of sin,
When earth's last good night's kiss
Becomes the seal of Heaven's glad welcome in.

Up hill—but up to life—
A life which never wearies nor grows old,
Unvexed by care and strife;
Immortal in the shining upper fold.

Up hill—but to my home,
To father and the dear ones of my love!
A stranger here I roam,
But still press up to that high home above!

A CITY GROUND TO POWDER.

TERRIFIC EARTHQUAKE AT MYTELENE.

[Mytelene (March 6) Cor. Levant Herald.]

On Thursday, the 6th, the weather had been close and unwholesomely hot; but as this is generally the case with the south wind, which had been blowing for some time, nothing was thought of it, least of all was there any fear of what followed. Though volcanic, as is proved by the numerous hot springs, the island had not, during the present generation, been visited by earthquake; it was now, however, to have a terrible experience of the phenomenon. At about 6 p. m. a sharp shock, lasting some fifteen or eighteen seconds, vibrated through the town, and before the fact was well realized, was followed by another, longer, and much more violent one. I happened at the moment to be down at the pier of the Austrian Lloyd agency, and nearly half a minute before the shock was felt on shore, saw the sea heave and foam out in the port as if a submarine explosion had taken place.

Little time, however, was left for surprise. In much less time than I take to write it the double thrill quivered through the town and, reeling like drunken men, whole blocks of solid stone houses collapsed as if they had been cardhouses. The offices of the agency, and nearly all the adjoining buildings, including the custom-house, the lighthouse office, and the large old mill, thus fell. Up in the town entire streets similarly crumbled, burying their inhabitants by hundreds in the ruins. The fine old castle, the cathedral, the governor's konak, the prison, the mosques, and, I believe, all the consular residences, more or less, yielded to the violence of the shock and were for the most part mere heaps of ruins. The very solidity with which the town was built has aggravated the disastrous effect of the calamity a hundredfold, both as regards the loss of and destruction of property.

The most complete ruin has fallen upon the lower part of the town, where the earth literally opened and swallowed a broad belt of buildings right up from the sea to that slope inland. At this point a permanent subsidence of the ground has taken place and the sea has accordingly encroached far into parts of Mytelene. In fact, to sum up the disaster, more than half of our beautiful town—the prettiest and most lively, perhaps, of all the Levant—is a desert of ruins. The worst part of the calamity is of course, the loss of life. As yet we can only guess at the extent of this; but it is thought that from 800 to 1,000 have perished while as many more have been maimed and wounded in every way. Up to to-day 120 bodies have, I hear, been dug out of the afer ruins, but how many may be buried under others which are too dangerous to be approached, can only be surmised! Such of the houses as are still standing have all been abandoned, and the whole surviving population is now scattered over the hill-sides and among the gardens outside the town—a few of them under such covers as they have been able to improvise, and the rest bivouacking without shelter of any kind.

Any attempt to describe the scene would be useless. Heart-rending grief, panic and confusion meet the eye on every side. Already the want of provisions is aggravating the distress, and only a speedy supply from Smyrna or the capital can avert a great additional loss of life. One of the Austrian Lloyd's steamers, and a French gunboat from Smyrna have landed a quantity of biscuit and some other stores, but in all not more than a day's food for the place. It is earnestly to be hoped that the Porte will at once send down tents, biscuits, and whatever other stores can be quickest got together. But not the town of Mytelene alone has suffered by this great calamity; it has scattered ruin and death throughout the whole northern part of the island. Hardly a village has escaped, and not merely property but life has been destroyed in nearly the whole. Molivo has been all but entirely demolished, and several hundred of its 6000 or 7,000 inhabitants have, it is said, perished in the ruins. It is, in fact, no exaggeration to say that half the island has been laid waste, with a sacrifice of human lives that may be reckoned by thousands. No such disaster has ever befallen Mytelene.

AN OLD PRAYER. A correspondent of the Albany Journal writes:—The following prayer, applicable to the present time, was formerly used in the Primer, or book of private Devotions, in the reformed church, until the accession of Mary of England. It is wonderful that such a beautiful and appropriate prayer was ever discontinued:

'The earth is thine, O Lord, and all that is contained therein; notwithstanding thou hast given possession thereof to the children of men to pass over the time of their short pilgrimage in this vale of tears. We heartily pray thee to send the Holy Spirit into the hearts of those that possess thy grounds, pastures, and dwelling places on the earth, that they, remembering that they are thy servants, may not rack and stretch out the rents of their houses and lands, nor yet take unreasonable fines and incomes, after the manner of covetous worldlessness; but so let them out to others that the inhabitants thereof may be able both to pay their rents, and also honestly live to enrich their family and relieve the poor.

Give them grace to consider that they are but strangers and pilgrims in this world, having here no dwelling place, but seeing one to come; that they remembering the short continuance of human life, may be content with that which is sufficient, and not join house to house, nor couple land to land to the impoverishment of others, but so behave themselves in letting out their tenements, lands, and pastures, that after this life they may be received into everlasting dwelling places through Jesus Christ our Lord.'

BE ON YOUR GUARD. Be on your guard against attempting to reform others, while you are unreformed yourselves. Be examples of the reformation which you wish to promote.

Be on your guard against all [illegible], all bitterness, and all wrath. They will hinder the speed of truth. They will [illegible] will strengthen the [illegible] of your adversaries.

ESCAPADE OF CATS. The thriving town of Richmond (Ill.) one day, recently, was the scene of a sensation and a catastrophe. The sensation was caused by the advent of Van Amburg & Co.'s Mammoth Menagerie. The catastrophe we propose to describe

On the day in question, an immense crowd had been attracted to see the living giraffe, and the other wonders of the menagerie. The caravan had made its grand procession through the streets, the tent had been erected, and a throng of expectant sight-seers were gathered at the entrance, awaiting the opening of the doors. Just then an odd looking genius drove up to the tent seated upon a rickety lumber wagon, carefully boarded over, drawn by a pair of spavined, windgalled, dilapidated steeds, eagerly inquiring for the manager. Upon that person making his appearance, he was saluted with:

'Hallo, Squire, I've brought you a load of cats.'

'A load of what!' said the astonished manager.

'A load of cats to feed your lions on.'

'To feed our lions on! The deuce you have. We don't feed our lions on cat meat; they eat nothing but the best beef.'

'Sho! I know better than that, I've read in the newspapers that cats are the favorite food of lions. Besides I've got a contract with your agent for a load of 'em, with a revenue stamp onto it, and I guess you can't go back on that.' Saying which, the cat merchant produced a greasy slip of paper, which read as follows:

RICHMOND, Oct. 6, 1866.

'This contract witnesseth that I have this day contracted with Simon Wiggins to furnish a load of cats to feed lions on, for which you will pay him the hereinafter prices, to wit: For A. 1. Prime Cats, 75 cents; for Store Cats, 50 cents.

JONAS BUNG,

Cat Agent Van Amburg & Co.'s Menagerie.'

'My friend, said the manager, after reading this document, 'you have been imposed upon. I do not know any such person as Jonas Bung, and I don't want any cats.'

'You lie; now you know you do,' retorted Wiggins, with imperturbable good humor, 'you are only trying to beat me down and get em cheap. I've got a prime lot—75 of 'em. Just look at 'em!' and hastily descending from his perch, he commenced shoving at the tail-board of his wagon, to allow the manager a chance to examine his load. By his nervousness, however, he managed so awkwardly that the board dropped completely out, and with a terrible sputtering, his entire load of cats sprang into the crowd. A score of worthless curs that were on the ground, made a dash for the cats, and away they went helter skelter, among the throng, upsetting women and children, and creating dire confusion on every side. Towards the town the streets were filled with people proceeding to the menagerie, who seeing the commotion, and hearing the shouts at once imagined some terrible accident.

The next instant, some rumor spread through the crowd that the Royal Bengal Tiger was loose, and a scene ensued that beggars description. 'Every one for himself,' was the motto acted on, and a general stampede followed, in which an astonishing display of agility was made. People ran, into houses and bolted their doors; ladies performed extraordinary exploits in the way of climbing fences, and that with sputtering cats, yelping dogs, screaming women and howling children, it really seemed for a while as if Bedlam had broken loose and taken possession of Richmond.

In a short time the truth of the matter became known, and the excitement subsided down. But Mr. Wiggins refused to be comforted for the overthrow of the great expectations he had built upon his cats, and disconsolately drove out of town, muttering terrible vengeance, if he caught him, upon the depraved individual who had palmed himself off as 'cat agent of Van Amburgh & Co.'s Menagerie.'

RESOURCES OF MEXICO. About the resources of Mexico the world at large knows comparatively nothing. The great wealth of the country, its hidden treasures, are matters more of speculation and song than of figures and facts. It is a common thing to say that Mexico is the richest country on the earth, but figures and facts are seldom put forth with which to justify such sweeping declarations. Some important statistics at hand convey a faint idea of the greatness and unparalleled richness of Mexico. Sr. Lerdo de Tejeda, a gentleman of historical sequirements, calculates the territory of Mexico at eight hundred sixty-six thousand four hundred and eighty-two square miles, and the population at eight and a fourth millions. Mr. de Tejeda values the real estate of that vast territory at one billion and three hundred millions of dollars. This would make each individual worth about one hundred and sixty dollars if the real estate were equally divided among the people. The amount of silver coin in circulation in Mexico, is estimated by Mr. de Tejeda, at the round sum of one hundred millions of dollars; and remarkable to relate, the amount which Juarez robbed the church of in 1858 is admitted to be three hundred millions. Humboldt estimated the products of the silver mines of Mexico, from the conquest by the Spaniards up to 1800 at about one billion of dollars. From 1733 to 1826 the exact amount of silver coined in Mexico, was $1,433,958,911; and from that time to 1860, the coinage reached $622,370,788. These calculations are independent of the products of the mines which were exported in an uncoined condition. The gold coinage of Mexico has never been large; say from one to two millions annually. The present yield of the Mexican silver mines per annum, is put down at twenty-three millions; showing a marked falling off since the country first came under Mexican rule, or since the breaking up of government in Mexico. With these figures before us an approximate estimate ought to be made of the yield of the Mexican mines during the last hundred years. But we have conversed with several merchants well posted in matters of this sort, but no two agree as to what proportion of silver taken from the mines is coined in the country. Two-thirds of all the silver taken from the mines, says one, is taken from the country in an uncoined state. Another merchant tells us that two-thirds of the whole product of Mexico is coined in the country. Suppose then we estimate that just as much silver is shipped from Mexico in bullion as is coined in that country; and we have as the product of the silver mines since 1800 about four billions of dollars. This large sum of money is the product of Mexico amidst revolutions, insurrections and a state of infernal outlawry. This product, which is large enough to more than pay the debt of the United States, was taken from the bowels of Mexico without perceptibly affecting the original deposit. That product could be reproduced in ten years under American auspices, and still the richness of the Mexican mines would be the same.

ELECTIONEERING STORIES. A story is going about the London clubs of a candidate for a vacant seat in Parliament. He was walking through the streets of the borough with his attorney, when a neutral voter was pointed out. The legal adviser said that the candidate had better tackle the voter at once. 'What is his profession?' said the candidate. 'I am not sure,' was the reply, 'but I rather think that he is a trunk-maker.' 'How do you do, how do you do, my dear sir?' says the candidate. 'How very fortunate that I have made your acquaintance. Mrs. X. has been travelling about a good deal lately, and has worn out her trunk. Please make me the very best trunk that you possibly can.' 'I am much flattered by your commands,' said the voter, 'but I am not a trunk-maker.' 'O yes, you are,' [illegible] 'No, indeed, I am not,' says the voter.

'Then, pray, what are you?' says the candidate. 'If you please, sir, I am a coffin maker.' 'O, that will do just as well,' said X., the candidate [illegible]

[illegible] objected. [illegible] on all the servants came and began to insinuate symptoms of giving warning. They continued think of [illegible] in the house with a coffin. Mr. X. then ordered it to be taken to his chambers in the Temple. On one of his friends asking him what he had done with his coffin, he admitted that he had put a whole set of voluminous law reports into it. The said candidate is likely to hear more of this when he goes among his newly-formed acquaintance in the borough.

Here is a story of an election for the North German Parliament:

In a small place in the district of Coblentz the Mayor sent round the public crier to proclaim, with the assistance of his bell, the following extraordinary communication: 'With the bell be it herewith proclaimed that on the 12th there is an election for Parliament, and Mr. Stumm is going to be elected.' The following day the opposition party engaged the same town crier to bell out as follows: 'With the bell be it herewith proclaimed that on the 12th there is an election for Parliament: Mr. Stumm however, is not going to be elected, but Mr. Cetto is.' The ancient town crier, who is also night watchman, added to this proclamation his own sentiments to the effect that 'those who won't select either of these may do just as they like.'

ADVENTURE ON THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER. Yesterday afternoon Dr. Wm. Twigg with his wife and child left his home at Illinois City, about four miles above this place, to visit a brother-in-law residing on the Iowa side of the river. He drove to the shore in a buggy but not deeming it safe to cross on the ice in the vehicle hitched the horse and crossed on foot. After a social visit the party left for home in the evening accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Fanny Van Buren and Mr. Asa Butman. They all passed safely over the main channel of the river on either side of Geneva Island until within a few rods of the Illinois shore, when the ice gave way with Mrs. McDonald who held the child. Mrs. Twigg seeing the accident hastened to render assistance. She picked up the child, which Mrs. McDonald had thrown upon the ice, but at that juncture also broke in. Mrs. Van Buren who was near her, went through at the same time. The Dr. who was a short distance behind, came to their assistance but only met with a like fate. Mr. Butman and Mr. McDonald were a short distance in advance. Hearing a noise and looking around they saw that the balance of the party were in the river. They immediately ran back to give help. After approaching the drowning party and kneeling down cautiously to the rescue, the ice likewise gave way with them. They were now all in a critical condition.

Mr. Butman and Mr. McDonald were first to get out. Butman who had hold of the Doctor with one hand, and who was now entirely helpless, managed to get hold of the ice with one hand, and also throw one foot out. In this condition he was approached at that moment by a large Newfoundland dog, which he seized by the tail and was enabled by this assistance to roll himself out on the ice, at the same time keeping tight hold of the Doctor. In the meantime Mr. McDonald managed to get out on the ice and immediately assisted the struggling party out.

Mrs. Van Buren was the first of the ladies assisted out, next the child, which was raised to the top of the water by its mother and immediately seized by Mrs. McDonald, laid upon the ice and shoved out of the way in a polite manner with Mr. Butman's foot. Mrs. Twigg was next rescued, Mrs. McDonald next and the Doctor last. The Dr. and Mrs. Twigg were greatly excited on account of the child, perhaps. They were taken to the nearest neighbor, Mr. Allen, and there received the hospitalities of his home.—Muscatine (Iowa) Journal, March 21

Madame Zadoc Porter's Balsam is a PURELY VEGETABLE EXPECTORANT, prepared with great care and scientific skill, from a combination of the best remedies the vegetable kingdom affords.

Its remedial qualities are based on its power to assist the healthy and vigorous circulation of the Blood through the Lungs.

It loosens the phlegm, induces free spitting, and will be found very agreeable to the taste. It is not a violent remedy, but emollient, warming, searching and effective; can be taken by the oldest person or youngest child.
